$51 billion for Overseas Contingency Operations ("war on terror") is part of the $586 DoD budget

MILITARY: 45% AND $1,300 BILLION

HOW THESE FIGURES WERE DETERMINED

Current military" includes Dept. of Defense ($586 billion) and the military portion from other departments as noted in current military box above ($196 billion). "Past military" represents veterans' benefits plus 80% of the interest on the debt.* For further explanation, please go to warresisters.org.

These figures are from an analysis of detailed tables in the Analytical Perspectives book of the Budget of the United States Government, Fiscal Year 2016. The figures are Federal funds, which do not include Trust funds — such as Social Security — that are raised and spent separately from income taxes.

What you pay (or don't pay) by April 15, 2015, goes to the Federal funds portion of the budget. The government practice of combining Trust and Federal funds began during the Vietnam War, thus making the human needs portion of the budget seem larger and the military portion smaller.

*Analysts differ on how much of the debt stems from the military; other groups estimate 50% to 60%. We use 80% because we believe if there had been no military spending most (if not all) of the national debt would have been eliminated.

“You cannot simultaneously prevent and prepare for war.”

—Albert Einstein

BROKEN PROMISES

THE PROMISE: Barack Obama won the Nobel Peace Prize in 2009 for his commitment to a world without nuclear weapons.

THE REALITY: U.S. Nuclear Weapons Budget (2015-2024) of $348 billion or $95 million/day. This includes new bombers, submarines, intercontinental ballistic missiles, and increased production of nuclear materials.

“Projected Costs of U.S. Nuclear Forces, 2015 to 2024,” Congressional Budget Office, 1/2015

ARMS TRADE

The 5 permanent members of the UN Security Council plus Germany supply 78% of the world's weapons	USA 29%	Russia 27%	Germany 7%	China 6%	France 5%	UK 4%

From bullets to bombers to ballistic missiles, from the local police to international weapons sales, U.S. tax dollars are heavily invested in military “solutions.” At the same time, the Global Peace Index cites a 7-year trend of increasing violence worldwide; top Pentagon contractors are setting stock price records; and the most powerful nations at the United Nations are the biggest weapons dealers. Take an action below for a turn toward peace.

“Unchecked climate change, global nuclear weapons modernizations, and outsized nuclear weapons arsenals pose extraordinary and undeniable threats to the continued existence of humanity, and world leaders have failed to act with the speed or on the scale required to protect citizens from potential catastrophe.”
